Mental Health
Awareness Day
Friday 11th February

The theme for this year's National Mental Health Awareness Day is 'It's the Inside that Matters' - during next week there will be an assembly in school on Mental Health Awareness and all the children will be taking part in special PSHE lessons, during which they will write or draw how they are feeling inside at that point. These will then be collected in delivered to the Northampton Museum along with contributions from all other schools in the county to be made into a permanent display that will celebrate and reflect on mental health awareness day across the county.

We are also asking children to wear their uniform inside out next FRIDAY (either one item or all of it!) to reflect the theme that we can't always see what's on the inside. As you will all know, one of our school values is 'Kindness' and one of our school rules is 'We are Kind' so we will also be tying these themes into the day.

Reminders

Please can we remind parents about our high expectations for uniform. Please see attached information previously sent out last year.

All children should be wearing full uniform including navy polo t-shirt, jade green jumper/cardigan and black school shoes. No trainers should be worn except on PE days.

Children should be wearing dark grey school trousers/skirts not jeans, jogging bottoms, cargo trousers.

Children must not wear any jewellery except for stud earrings.

Anyone wearing items not outlined will be identified and letters sent home asking for them to be replaced.

Please can we also request children do not bring in other items from home, that can potentially be lost or misplaced. Please ensure children keep these items for home/outside school.

Safer Internet Day

Please keep an eye out for further information next week regarding Safer Internet Day, promoting the safe and positive use of digital technology for children and young people.
